

MRS. GLADYS STEVENS WED

Bride at Her Home in Chatham,
N. Y., of Chester A. Braman

Special to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

CHATHAM, N. Y., Oct. 6—Mrs. Gladys Stevens and Chester A. Braman, both of Old Chatham, were married today at The Poplars, home of Mrs. Stevens, by the Rev. Charles Adams, pastor of the Chatham Methodist Church. Mrs. Braman is the daughter of Mrs. James Crosby Brown of Philadelphia, and Mr. Braman the son of Mrs. Chester A. Braman of New York and the late Mr. Braman..

Mrs. W. Gordon Cox of Old Chatham, was matron of honor, and Douglas G. Bonner of New York best man.

Mrs. Braman's marriage to William Dixon Stevens of New York was terminated by divorce in 1938. The bridegroom was previously married to the former Miss Anna E. Roosevelt Hall, a cousin of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The marriage was terminated by divorce several weeks ago.

The New York Times

Copyright © The New York Times
Originally published October 7, 1941